

Geography AQA A level

- A section of the global systems and global governance topic will require you to have in depth knowledge of a TNC. The task over the summer will be to research and complete work on the sections highlighted on the next slide.
- To achieve higher marks in the exam, case study knowledge is vital because it allows you to include facts/figures and examples that you can therefore develop further in your answer.

Apple case study (include facts, figures & examples)

- Spatial organisation - how/where Apple organise their operations e.g. where is the manufacturing?
- Production processes - where and who completes this
- Social, economic and environmental impacts on the countries they operate (must include positives & negatives)
- Discuss why the role of TNCS in aiding development can be viewed positively and negatively - include examples where possible.